Dear Teddy Bear Creators:

Thank you for requesting a copy of our latest catalogue. We hope we can provide for all those important “bear necessities.”

Dear Bears was established in 1993 to make memories from recycled fur coats. The goal of our new MarketPlace is to serve bear makers whether you are “in the business”, creative crafting or feeding the habit of teddy bear love. We aim to provide the complete range of supplies. If you don’t find what you are looking for we’d be pleased to source it so that all our customers can benefit. So just ask!

In addition to a full line of fabrics for miniature and full size bears, we have a wide range of jointing systems, eyes, suede, leather, felt, accessory items, patterns and kits from Canadian, American and European artists. We are always looking for new artists and suppliers. Please give us your suggestions.

We’re both bear ladies here so ask us about working with the various fabrics and patterns - we travel with our samples to shows which may be all you need to get you going on another bear. Check out the newsletter for our next show and of course if you happen to be “in town” then call for an appointment for a personal shop.

Bear Hugs and Happy Sewing

Ruth & Debbie

“Even though there’s a rip in your teddy bear, his love will not fall out.”

(E.F. Gigliotti & E.C. Gigliotti)

Mohair prices in this catalog are quoted in Canadian dollars by the fat quarter which is equivalent to 1/4 yard. A fat quarter is a piece 18" x 27". This makes it easier to lay out your pattern pieces. A fat quarter will make a teddy that is 16" or smaller. Although the prices are quoted by the fat quarter, you can buy larger quantities. Mohair with 3/8" or shorter pile available in fat 1/8 yard or 9 x 14" pieces on request (individually priced).

Discounts

Each and every month, we feature an item in our inventory at 10% off the listed price in the catalog. You don't have to join anything or pay a fee, just enjoy the discount.

MAKING MOHAIR FABRIC

Large quantities of animal fibers and furs are used in the manufacture of cloth. Sometimes they are used in conjunction with wool to produce special effects or to add extra softness, colour or luster. The largest amount comes from animals that are related as shown on the chart below.

Mohair comes from Angora goats. The silky, natural white fleece is spun into wool by the best spinners in the world. Then the Schulte factory does its magic and weaves the fine mohair into a cotton backing. This process helps the fabric hold its shape. Several additional processes such as dyeing, brushing, and distressing, turn it into various styles each lending a different look to your creation.

Mohair comes in over 20 shades of brown and a wide range of other colors. Hair lengths range from 3/16" to 1 1/2". Generally, the longer hair lengths are best on big bears. The pile is characterized as regular, dense, extra dense, sparse, feathered, curly, swirly and any combination of those.

Through the years, mohair has been used as a fashion fabric for men's and women's clothing; as an upholstery covering and for the manufacture of rugs and wigs for theatrical purposes. Because both the supply and use of mohair for the manufacture of different items are limited, mohair is generally more expensive than wool.

MOHAIR FABRICS

New European Fabrics: Discovered on our 1999 European trip. We just fell in love with these fabrics! Poppyseed and Jazzy Viscose were chosen not only for their different look but their ability to take dyes. More selection to arrive during the year.

British Columbia Mohair/Alpaca:

Bear Thread Fabrics features a woven cotton backing with a blend of 60% kid mohair, 30% wool and 10% angora surface. The yarns have been spun in Canada and in most instances; the fiber was grown in Canada as well. It has been specially designed and hand-woven for teddy bear artists by Laura Fry Weaving Studio of Prince George, BC.

The shallow nap can be brushed either before or after sewing to give a cute wispy look. This mohair can be hand dyed to achieve a one-of-a-kind bear.

True Eyes are a bear designing tool that:

- is an accurate and easy aid to achieve the expression and look you desire for your bear
- makes it possible for you to experiment with eye size and placement right on the actual bear's face before sewing in the permanent eyes.
- is designed to represent the exact size of the permanent eyes.
- is made of the same premium quality German glass that the permanent eyes are made of and have a hardened and plated steel pin backing.
- can be positioned and removed repeatedly without damaging the fabric
- enables you to determine if the eye positioning and size is the same as that on the pattern you are making.

Placing An Order:

Phone during business hours, leave your order on our answering machine or send by Fax or e-mail

Order Forms:

An order form appears in the center of the catalogue. A new one will be sent with each order.

Shipping:

We ship within 48 hours of receiving your order. If something is out of stock we will call you to determine your preference for back order. Shipping and handling charges are listed on the order form.

Taxes:

GST is calculated on the total purchase including postage (not our law). Patterns are PST exempt. BC residents pay PST.

Returns and Exchanges:

We check for flaws before shipping. Patterns and kits are not returnable. Special orders require a non-refundable deposit. Exchanges and refunds are processed ASAP.

Please accept our thanks!

We appreciate your order and hope we can serve you again. Tell us what you want or ways we can help you make your bears easier, faster, better or less expensive.
